

Doing Business in South Africa

WHEN: Thursday, August 30, 2012, 8:30 am - 9:30 am

WHERE: World Trade Center at City Creek
60 East South Temple Street, 3rd Floor
Salt Lake City, UT 84111
(in-house parking validation provided)

WHO:

- Mr. Cyril S. Ndaba, Consul-General of the South African Consulate of Los Angeles
- Decision makers of Utah companies doing business with or considering expansion into Africa; friends of Africa.

WHAT: South Africa is one of the most sophisticated and promising emerging markets globally. The unique combination of a highly developed first-world economic infrastructure and a huge emergent market economy has given rise to a strong entrepreneurial and dynamic investment environment. South Africa is the economic powerhouse of the African continent, with a Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of $555 billion - comprising 30% of the entire GDP of Africa. Utah exports to South Africa were over 48.5 million in 2011, 158% higher than 2010.

The purpose of this roundtable is to provide the most up-to-date critical information on conducting business in South Africa. Participants will be instructed on current best practices and learn about African cultures and current Utah-Africa partnerships. Please come prepared with questions and ready to participate.

RSVP REQUIRED. Registration is first-come, first-served. To RSVP, register at business.utah.gov/Southafrica2012. For questions, email Nate Lambson at nlambson@utah.gov or call 801.538.8814. There is no charge to attend. Breakfast will be provided.

Reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities will be made if requested at least two weeks in advance. Contact Franz Kolb at fkolb@utah.gov or (801) 538-8717.
